HNK Ede Horapark opened its doors

HOOFFDORP, 12 June 2015 – NSI N.V. (“NSI”) officially opened its 9th HNK location in Ede yesterday. HNK stands for The New Office (Het Nieuwe Kantoor). HNK stands for The New Office (‘Het Nieuwe Kantoor’). With this concept, NSI is anticipating the growing need for full service and flexible leasing solutions in the office market. Tenant Ctgb (Board for the Authorisation of Plant Protection Products and Biocides) simultaneously opened its new office in HNK Ede Horapark. Minister for Agriculture Sharon Dijksma conducted the opening. In addition, the alderman for the municipality of Ede, Mrs Willemien Vreugdenhil, was present during the opening ceremony.

Johan Buijs, CEO NSI, “With HNK we focus on specific locations where a lot of economic activity is taking place. The Foodvalley Ede-Wageningen perfectly match the criteria. With our HNK concept, we facilitate entrepreneurship in the broadest sense and the infrastructure of HNK encourages interaction. That is extremely important for the knowledge driven activities that characterize the activities in this region. The social heart, which is the community space on the ground floor, and the conference & meeting room facilities enable that the expertise and inspiration of the individual users intermingle into a vibrant buzz. HNK Ede Horapark should therefore not be missed in the Foodvalley.”

Willemien Vreugdenhil, Alderman Municipality of Ede, confirms the value of the opening of HNK Ede Horapark; “We encourage initiatives that leverage the power of research, education and entrepreneurship In the Foodvalley Ede-Wageningen. A housing concept in which the physical facilities contribute to the exchange of knowledge and innovation is therefor essential. Providing the right environment in order to create economic opportunity is of great importance.”
